CHILDCARE EXPERIENCE:

I have nannied for a number of years, both privately and through a nanny company with experience dealing with lots of different kinds of learning styles and methods for handling a number of situations, including children with ADD, ADHD, cerebral palsy, potentially fatal allergies, child apraxia, Down syndrome, and autism.

I am in my second year of small-group leading and teaching in a weekly KG2 class. In this role, I am given themes and basic story that I am responsible to formulate on my own for 3- and 4-year-olds. I develop a conclusion and list of summary questions, as well as find antics, songs and actions that aid in the children's memorization. This program strongly emphasizes one-on-one interaction, with intentional eye contact and interest in child's thoughts and desires.
